

Guide to the Subpoena Public Records Request

Mayor's Office

Daniel Koh: Chief of Staff
Joyce Linehan: Chief of Policy
Laura Oggeri: Chief of Communications
Patrick Brophy: Chief of Operations
John Barros: Chief of Economic Development
Julie Burros: Chief of Arts and Culture
David Sweeney: Chief of Administration and Finance

James Sullivan: Director of Intergovernmental Relations
Ronald Rakow: Commissioner of Assessing

Bonnie McGilpin: Press Secretary
Gabrielle Farrell: Associate Press Secretary
Juli Hanscom: Deputy Press Secretary

Boston Redevelopment Authority

John Barros: Director
Brian Golden: Director
Teresa Polhemus: Executive Director/Secretary
Nicholas Martin: Director of Communications
Sara Myerson: Director of the Office of Olympic Planning
John Fitzgerald: Mayor's Olympic Liaison

7/13/2015: David Nagahiro of CBT Architects emails Julie Burros about connecting Boston Creates and Boston 2024. Julie forwards this to Joyce Linehan and Ashley Berendt of TDC. (p. 853-854, 881-882)

7/13/2015: Adam Vaccaro of Boston.com emails Laura Oggeri with questions about the taxpayer guarantee for a story. (p. 1799, 1811, 1813)

7/13/2015: Sara Myerson notes to Teresa Polhemus and Laura Oggeri that she is back in the office and would be free to discuss the public records request submitted by No Boston 2024's Jonathan Cohn about her work. (p. 1807-1809)

7/13/2015: A discussion between Philip Marcelo of the Associated Press and Laura Oggeri. The discussion starts about Walsh's casino lawsuit, but Philip also notes that the AP sports writers are interested in getting an interview with Walsh about his efforts to rally support for Boston 2024. (The casino discussion continues on p. 1801-1806, 1815-1820, 1821-1831, 1833-1843, 1845-1856, 1857-1864, 1865-1872, 1873-1885, 1887-1895, 1897-1910, 2389-2396, 2397-2409)

7/14/2015-7/15/2015: Philip Marcelo follows up with Laura Oggeri about his Olympic request from the previous day. Laura asks if it can wait until the following week when the mayor is back from Rome, but Philip notes that his deadline is that Friday. She answers clarifying questions about the Mayor's involvement with boosting public support for the bid. (1941-1950, 1951-1960, 1961-1971, 2031-2041, 2045-2062, 2063-2074, 2075-2087, 2117-2137, 2187-2198, 2199-2211, 2213-2227)

7/14/2015: Susanne Cameron of Citi forwards an op-ed by Interise CEO Jean Horstman in WBUR's Cognoscenti to Joyce. Susanne notes that she wants to get a meeting between Jean and John Barros. (p. 887-889)

7/14/2015: John Tobin, VP of Community Affairs at Northeastern University, emails Patrick Brophy about a 10/1 meeting between Marty Walsh and Lord Mayor Doyle of Melbourne. In light of the Olympics and IndyCar, "City Activation, Big events, [and] conference attraction and management" are presented as potential topics. (p. 197-198)

7/15/2015: An exchange between Jonathan Cohn of No Boston 2024 and Henry Luthin, First Assistant Corporation Counsel, and Caroline Driscoll, Assistant Corporation Counsel, about a public records request. (p. 2009-2015)

7/16/2015: Bonnie McGilpin sends out a statement from Marty Walsh on his meeting with the USOC to a group of reporters. (p. 383, 385, 387, 389, 391, 393-394, 395-396)

7/16/2015: Cambridge City Councilor Nadeem Mazen emails Dan Koh about scheduling a meeting with No Boston 2024's Robin Jacks. (p. 1429-1432)

7/16/2015: Tom Rutledge, an investor who created the Boston 2024 Hacks website, sends out an email (which includes Dan Koh as a recipient) detailing his thoughts on how to make the bid better. (p. 1445-1448)

7/16/2015: Teresa Polhemus forwards one of Jonathan Cohn's Widett Circle-focused records request to Nicholas Martin, Laura Oggeri, John Fitzgerald, Sara Myerson, and Brian Golden. (p. 2139-2140)

7/16/2015: Constituent complaint to mayor@boston.gov detailing arguments for why the city should not host the Olympics: "The only 'winners' in this will be the individuals and special interest groups who can obtain sweet heart deals to construct the single use facilities that this event will require." (p. 929-931)

7/17/2015: Taylor Connolly (Special Assistant, Sports, Tourism, & Entertainment) emails Meghan Aldridge (Deputy Chief of Staff) with a request from the state tourism and sports marketing offices for a letter of support from Walsh for New England's bid to host Wrestlemania in 2017, 2018, or 2019. The event would be held at Gillette Stadium, with preliminary events and lodging potentially in Boston. Meghan runs it by Joyce Linehan, who notes that Meghan should check in with IGR (Intergovernmental Relations). Meghan brings Kenneth Brisette (Director of Sports, Tourism, & Entertainment) and James Sullivan into the conversation. More details are introduced, and Taylor drafts a letter. (p. 971-972, 973-975, 977-981, 983-987, 989-992)

7/17/2015: Constituent complaint on the Mayor's Hotline: "Caller would like to know why the Mayor keeps advocating for the Olympics while the majority of residents are opposed to hosting." (p. 967)

7/17/2015: The response to a public records request submitted by Dig's Emily Hopkins (p. 2265)

7/17/2015 – 7/22/2015: Erin Smith of the Herald asks Laura for the $25m insurance policy taken out for the bid, noting that all she currently has is the binder agreement from earlier in the year. Laura notes that the binder is "what the City has in its possession regarding the insurance" and attaches an additional document. Laura gives effectively the same response after conferring with legal. A long back-and-forth ensues. (p. 2277, 2279, 2281-2282, 2283-2284, 2289-2291, 2293-2295, 2297-2299, 2303-2306, 2307-2310, 2311-2315, 2317-2321, 2339-2344, 2345-2350, 2381-2387, 2411-2418, 2647-2654, 2655-2662, 2663-2671, 2673-2681, 2682-2691, 2711-2720, 2721-2730, 2731-2741, 2743-2753, 2755-2765, 2769-2779, 2785-2795, 2805-2816, 2821-2832)

7/20/2015: Laura Oggeri gives a statement to Jack Encarnacao of the Herald regarding salary disclosure. (p. 2353)

7/20/2015: Laura Oggeri forwards Dan Koh her 6/23 response to Jack Encarnacao with a statement she gave for Walsh on salary disclosure. (p. 1521)

7/20/2015: Chris Lange from Elizabeth Warren's office asks James Sullivan if Walsh has taken a stance on Councilor Tito Jackson's question about releasing the bid book. Laura Oggeri responds, "No statement since he is in Rome." (p. 533-536, 537-541, 543-547)

7/21/2015: Adam Vaccaro of Boston.com asks Laura Oggeri if Walsh has a stance Tito Jackson's subpoena. Her response is that the mayor is in Rome. (p. 2577, 2579, 2581, 2583-2584, 2585-2586, 2875).

7/21/2015: Michael Levenson of the Globe asks Laura Oggeri if he can get the docs to Jonathan Cohn of No Boston 2024's records request on Joyce Linehan when they are released. (p. 2607, 2609, 2610)

7/21/2015: Katie Kingsbury of the Globe editorial board emails Dan Koh to ask if Walsh would be interested in writing an op-ed for their feature on the future of Widett Circle. Kingsbury notes that Widett "holds great progress as a new Boston neighborhood." (p. 1641, 1643-1644, 2693-2694)

7/21/2015: Laura Oggeri responds to an inquiry from Kyle Clauss of Boston Magazine about a discrepancy in the documents received by No Boston 2024's Jonathan Cohn for his records request on Dan Koh. (p. 2557-2559)

7/22/2015: Andy Metzger (SHNS) asks Bonnie McGilpin whether Walsh supports the subpoena. She responds, "He is in Rome." (p. 623, 625, 627-628, 629)

7/22/2015: Tajunique Thompson, graphic designer at the BRA, distributes the Twitter graphic for the Mattapan meeting. Gabrielle Farrell asks Laura Oggeri if it's okay to start promoting it. Laura says to do so Friday morning. (p. 631-632, 633-634, 2801-2803, 2817-2819, 2837-2840)

7/22/2015: Adam Castiglioni (hospitality professional who blogs at <http://www.bostonhospitalityindustry.com/>) asks Bonnie McGilpin (cc'ing Laura Oggeri, Juli Hanscom, and Dan Koh) why we can't see the "whole original Olympics bid" and whether Walsh has a comment on the Globe article about the delay of the City Council vote on a subpoena. The response, given at 4:24 PM: "The Mayor is in Rome." (p. 635, 637-638, 639-640)

7/22/2015: Although the response "The Mayor is in Rome" was given less than two hours prior, a formal statement from Walsh is given out by Bonnie McGilpin to the press at 6:12 PM. (p. 641-642)

7/22/2015: Juli Hanscom asks Laura Oggeri, Bonnie McGilpin, and Gabrielle Farrell discuss how to handle social media for Walsh's statement: "Tweet a link to the whole statement?" Laura says to stick to the email. (p. 643-644, 645-647, 651-652, 653-655, 659-661)

7/22/2015: Andy Metzger of State House News Service emails Bonnie McGilpin, noting "This sounds like big news." Re: the press release and asking a confirmation question. Bonnie says he should ask Boston 2024 specifically for any questions he has of them. (p. 649-650, 657-658)

7/22/2015: Philip Marcelo (AP) asks Laura Oggeri if there is "any particular reason" why the Mayor's Office won't just provide the bid: "assume you guys have a copy of the full unredacted thing, yes?" Laura says they do not. (p. 663-665, 667-670)

7/22/2015: Adam Vaccaro asks Laura Oggeri if the documents were meant to be attached to the statement. She notes that Boston 2024 will be providing them. (p. 2847, 2849, 2851)

7/23/2015: Ronald Rakow, David Sweeney, and Bonnie McGilpin discuss questions from the Globe's Andrew Ryan about property tax breaks, and then Bonnie gets back to him. His questions were the foundation for a story the following week. (p. 689-695, 697-702, 703-708)

7/24/2015: Ronald Rakow, David Sweeney, and Bonnie McGilpin discuss the follow-up questions sent by Andrew Ryan for the story mentioned above. Sweeney and Rakow show clear irritation. (p. 793-797, 801-805, 807-812, 813-818, 819-824)

7/24/2015: Corey Saunders, assignment editor for WCVB-TV News Center5, emails the Mayor's communications team noting that, among other things, they are "looking to get sound with [Walsh], please, regarding the release of the original Olympic bid today." (p. 825, 827, 829)

7/24/2015: James Sullivan forwards a State House News Service article about the release of additional bid information to Patrick Brophy with just the word "Pat" as text. (p. 57-60)

7/24/2015: Garrett Quinn of Boston Mag asks for a comment from the Mayor's Office about the AP report about the USOC's ultimatum to Governor Baker. Laura Oggeri notes that they have no knowledge of the request. (p. 2925, 2927)

7/24/2015: Laura Oggeri responds to a public records request from Mary Moore of the Boston Business Journal. She then forwards her response to Kyle Clauss of Boston Magaazine and Dan Koh. (p. 1775-1779)